Course Description

While the current events of COVID-19 have caused many of our organizations to quickly transition to remote means of instruction and connection, looking to the future, there is benefit beyond this present circumstance in expanding one's understanding of and comfort in distance-based pedagogy. In this session, the presenter will share research on trends and best practices with respect to online learning/connection at the PreK-12 level; highlight various tools for engagement including video conferencing systems (primarily Zoom, with reference to other systems as well); offer strategies for increasing interaction, and general tips and tricks for those looking to expand their technological self-efficacy. Attendees will be invited to reflect upon their own programs and services, to participate in hands on demonstrations of content covered, and to consider ways they can best utilize online tools and strategies to engage students from a distance.

Learner Objectives

As a result of this activity, the participant will be able to:

- discuss when/how technology can be used to engage students online.
- discuss potential challenges and identify opportunities that may exist when using technologies to engage from a distance.
- Identify resources/tools that can be used in future work to engage students online.

Agenda

- 4:30 Research on use of online education
- 5:00 Into to various technologies – Zoom, Adobe Connect, Google, GoToMeeting
- 5:15 Using Zoom; overview of different tools/best uses
- 6:00 Break
- 6:15 Regroup Discussion – what questions remain for participants?
- 6:30 Small Group Breakouts. Opportunity to practice tools and strategize future uses
- 7:15 Discussion, comments, and questions
